

The Simplicity of Saving Faith

“<sup>8</sup>But what does it say? “THE WORD IS NEAR YOU, IN YOUR MOUTH AND IN YOUR HEART”—that is, the word of faith which we are preaching, <sup>9</sup>that if you confess with your mouth Jesus as Lord, and believe in your heart that God raised Him from the dead, you will be saved; <sup>10</sup>for with the heart a person believes, resulting in righteousness, and with the mouth he confesses, resulting in salvation. <sup>11</sup>For the Scripture says, “WHOEVER BELIEVES IN HIM WILL NOT BE DISAPPOINTED.” <sup>12</sup>For there is no distinction between Jew and Greek; for the same Lord is Lord of all, abounding in riches for all who call on Him; <sup>13</sup>for “WHOEVER WILL CALL ON THE NAME OF THE LORD WILL BE SAVED.” <sup>14</sup>How then will they call on Him in whom they have not believed? How will they believe in Him whom they have not heard? And how will they hear without a preacher? <sup>15</sup>How will they preach unless they are sent? Just as it is written, “HOW BEAUTIFUL ARE THE FEET OF THOSE WHO BRING GOOD NEWS OF GOOD THINGS!” Romans 10:8-15

The Simplicity of Saving Faith

How can I go to heaven? How can I be saved from my sin? These questions, according to Paul, have clear and readily available answers. It does not require superior knowledge or intellect to be saved. There is no advanced degree in theology as a prerequisite for becoming a Christian. Salvation does not begin with a prodigious search for hidden revelation. Paul says, “The word is near you, in your mouth and in your heart.” The knowledge on becoming a Christian is right in front of you. Salvation begins with confession and belief. Verse 9 says that if we confess “Jesus as Lord” and we believe that “God raised Him from the dead”, then we “will be saved.” The reason salvation is linked to confession and belief comes in the statement that follows. “For with the heart a person believes, resulting in righteousness...” The righteousness Paul refers to in this verse is the righteousness of God. He credits to our account His very own righteousness when we believe in His Son, Jesus Christ. By believing in Jesus Christ we are renouncing our own righteousness, which is non-existent, in order to stand righteous or justified before God. Instead, of claiming our own righteousness, we lay claim to the righteousness of Christ that the Father credits to our account on the basis of our faith. The reason heart-based faith is an aspect of salvation is that this faith results “in righteousness.” We believe and God gives to us freely out of His abundance of righteousness.

The second aspect of salvation according to Paul is confession. The reason confession matters in salvation is that “...with the mouth confesses, resulting in salvation.” It is impossible to be saved unless we confess Jesus Christ as our Lord. The word “confess” in the Greek is the compound word “homo-logeo,” meaning to speak the same word. We normally use this word with reference to confessing sins. When we practice biblical confession of sins, we are NOT simply acknowledging that we have done something wrong. Instead, we speak about our sin in the same way that God Himself speaks about our sins. When we confess our sins in this way we see our sins as a horrific violation of the holiness of God. When we confess our sins in this way, we feel the weight of the brokenness of our lives and the separation that sin creates between us and God. Now, applying this concept to the Romans 10 passage, when we confess Jesus as Lord, this is more than a verbal profession. In confessing Jesus as Lord, we are expressing what the Father says about His Son. God has put all things under the control of Jesus Christ. By the Father’s perfect plan, one day every tongue in heaven and on earth will confess that Jesus Christ is Lord to the glory of the Father. (Philippians 2:5-11) He wields complete sovereignty, authority, power, honor, glory, and majesty. His eternal union with the Father demands our unending loyalty. His gracious work of salvation requires our eternal worship. Salvation apart from speaking, thinking, feeling, and committing to the Lordship of Jesus Christ, there can be no salvation.

This confession reflects a life committed to the Lordship of Jesus Christ. Consider the words of Jesus during His public ministry. “Then Jesus said to His disciples, ‘If anyone wishes to come after Me, he must deny himself, and take up his cross and follow Me.’” (Matthew 16:24) Or “Not everyone who says to Me, ‘Lord, Lord,’ will enter the kingdom of heaven, but he who does the will of My Father who is in heaven will enter.” (Matthew 7:21)

(Con’t on pg 2)

Or “But Jesus said to him, ‘No one, after putting his hand to the plow and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God.’” (Luke 9:62) Or “Looking at him, Jesus felt a love for him and said to him, ‘One thing you lack: go and sell all you possess and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow Me.’” Or “If anyone serves Me, he must follow Me; and where I am, there My servant will be also; if anyone serves Me, the Father will honor him.” (John 12:26) Paul connects faith and confession in the divine gift of salvation. Faith in Christ results in righteousness and confession with the mouth that Jesus Christ is Lord results in salvation.

The Beauty of the Feet of the Messenger

This message is precious. The message is beautiful and so are the feet of those bringing the good news of salvation. This seems to be a strange observation by Paul. When noting someone’s beauty, their feet might not be the place we would begin, especially with reference to an apostle like Paul in his late 50s, who is bearing the physical marks of a much older man because of the years of persecution and hard travel. If you notice the original passage, the words appear in all capital letters. This tool of the NASB translators helps us see this as a quote from the Old Testament. Isaiah 52:7 says, “How lovely on the mountain are the feet of him who brings good news, who announces peace and brings good news of happiness, who announces salvation, and says to Zion, ‘Your God reigns!’” In this passage, Isaiah described the messengers returning to the city of Jerusalem to announce good news of peace and happiness and salvation because of the sovereign work of God. If a messenger bore such news, they would not walk to Jerusalem. They would run. As the dust kicked up on the mountains from their rapid pace, the watchers on the city walls would know even before the arrival of the herald that the news was good news. Paul sees himself and all others who preach the word of the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ and the salvation found in His name as messengers with quickened steps because of the goodness of their news. Good News! Good News! God provided terms of peace for us in His Son. Anyone who believes in their heart that Jesus died in their place and rose again from the dead will be seen as righteous before God. Anyone that confesses with their mouth that Jesus Christ is Lord will be saved. How beautiful a message!

~ Daniel

Matthew Road Missions Update

Alyssa McClellin -

Every Sunday for the past month my team has been given the great responsibility and opportunity of leading different church services. What’s been adventurous about this task is that we church hop between one to three different churches each Sunday. On top of that, the month of February here in the Philippines is love month. You heard me right, love month. In spirit of this celebration my team was asked to not only host church services, but be a love panel that answers each congregations questions about love.

In the states, this whole panel idea would be slightly strange but the culture here really thrives on loving well, love. They ask questions like what the real definition of love is, when is the perfect time to get married, how should we confront our neighbors, etc.. At the end of the day, it’s really a privilege to be uncomfortable on a stage in order to impart wisdom on real true love, love that is only made possible through the Lord.

Being our last weeks here means a lot things, including saying goodbye. Before we departed we wanted to serve in a way that would really leave impact on the people we’ve built relationships with. Our team decided to try and convey our appreciation and heart for them by making a Bible story come to life. So for the last time, we walked into our beloved village. Except this time we not only came equipped with Bibles to gift, but also with much needed medical supplies and buckets to wash feet.

I wish I could write the right words to convey to you the feeling I had watching kiddos, one after another, sit in front of me nervously. They were almost too shy to be served, and my heart was so overjoyed to prove to them their eternal worth by simply washing the dirt off their little feet.

Right now, the thought of jumping on a plane back to Australia seems unbearable. I was made for this. There’s nothing more I want to do than to wake up everyday to a full day of ministry at the cost of hot showers, being able to communicate in my native tongue, and comfortable food.

It’ll be a rough goodbye, no doubt. But here’s to trusting in the sovereignty and provision of the good Lord. I’m proud to say that God has wrecked me during outreach. He’s walked alongside me as I’ve been weak, He’s given me the words when I had none, He’s been real real good.

So, peace out, Manila! Alyssa Leah

Youth Ministry

PURPOSE Our High School and Middle School camps are right around the corner guys!! I am so excited about camp this year! We would love to see all of our students participating in camp this year. Camp is a great time for our student ministry to grow closer together and for our students to encounter God in a way that they never have before. I have already begun to pray for our students who will be attending camp and parents I hope that you would join me in praying for our students. Please make sure that you swing by common grounds and pick up a camp packet that includes a camp signup, a camp covenant, and a medical release form. If you have already filled out the medical release form for a prior event this year then we have your form on file and you will not need to fill a new one out. If anyone has questions about camp please let me know!

We are still continuing our Wednesday night services and our series over the book of Acts! This past month on Wednesday nights we have seen Zach and myself being soaked in a game of water wars and of course the highlight of the month when we saw Pastor Daniel crack not one but two raw eggs on his head in a game of egg roulette. We have so much fun with our games on Wednesday nights, and yet we are able to dive into God's Word. We would love to see your student at any of our weekly events that we have and of course we would love to have them at camp!

Devotional: James 1:22 – 25 says, "22 But be doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves. 23 For if anyone is a hearer of the word and not a doer, he is like a man who looks intently at his natural face in a mirror. 24 For he looks at himself and goes away and at once forgets what he was like. 25 But the one who looks into the perfect law, the law of liberty, and perseveres, being no hearer who forgets but a doer who acts, he will be blessed in his doing." Let us remember during the month of May to be Doers of the Word and not to just listen to it. Let us be active in our faith. Daily showing our faith through our thoughts and actions. Let us take the challenge and share our faith and to dig into God's Word and live it out LOUD!

In Christ, Matt
